

RHINO MAN

WOULD YOU RISK YOUR LIFE TO SAVE A SPECIES?

LOGLINE RHINO MAN is a true story about the courageous field rangers who risk their lives every day to protect South Africa's rhinos from being poached to extinction.

SYNOPSIS

In the midst of the battle to save the rhinos, a great ranger trainer, Martin Mthembu, has fallen, leaving a void in the fight. His close friend, Ruben de Kock, continues to honor his legacy by training the next generation of rangers, while our hero, Sergeant Anton Mzimba, holds the line against poachers out in the bush.

It's a race to train and inspire the next generation to care for the rhinos and these wild spaces, before poachers wipe out one species after another. A story of deep loss and suffering overcome by love and sacrifice for the greater good.

SOCIAL ISSUE

Despite the heroic efforts of anti-poaching rangers and conservation NGOs, rhinos are still being poached at a rate of 1-2 per day. One rhino horn can sell for up to $200,000 USD on the black market, while unemployment near Kruger National Park soars above 30%. A lack of opportunities has created the conditions for crime syndicates to coerce desperate people into poaching rhinos for profit. At the current rate of poaching, all rhinos in the wild could become extinct in the next two decades.

Once the rhinos are gone, then it's elephants, it's lions — with ecosystems being the interdependence of species, humans will soon be in line to go extinct.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT AT THE TURN OF THE 20TH CENTURY THERE WERE OVER HALF A MILLION RHINOS WORLDWIDE.

THERE ARE NOW LESS THAN 27,000 RHINOS LEFT IN THE WORLD, MOST OF WHICH ARE IN SOUTH AFRICA.
